

Family Medicine – Full-Time Faculty Positions

Discipline of Family Medicine, Faculty of Medicine

Memorial University of Newfoundland

Faculty of Medicine

Full-time Family Medicine faculty positions at the level of Assistant Professor or above, depending on experience, are available. These positions are eligible for promotion in accordance with Faculty of Medicine guidelines related to strong performance in education, leadership, research, and clinical excellence.

Major academic responsibilities include undergraduate and residency education within the Discipline of Family Medicine and the Faculty of Medicine. Priorities for these positions include resident support, resident assessment, extensions of training, and remediation.

Clinical responsibilities of the positions will include a diversified Family Medicine practice linked to one of the three St. John's academic teaching sites. The successful candidates will be expected to practice broad scope Family Medicine.

An alternate payment package allows for protected time for the expected scholarly activity in education, leadership, and research. Attainment of an advanced degree in either research or education is an expected component of the position being offered.

Candidates must be Certificants of the College of Family Physicians of Canada and eligible for full licensure by the College of Physicians and Surgeons of Newfoundland and Labrador.

Memorial University is committed to employment equity and encourages applications from all qualified candidates, including women, members of visible minorities, Indigenous people, members of sexual minorities, and persons with disabilities. All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply, however Canadian citizens and permanent residents of Canada will be given priority.

Memorial University is one of the largest universities in Atlantic Canada. As the province's only university, Memorial plays an integral role in the education and cultural life of Newfoundland and Labrador. Offering diverse undergraduate and graduate programs to more than 19,000 students, Memorial provides a distinctive and stimulating environment for learning. St. John's is a friendly city with great historic charm, a vibrant cultural life and easy access to a wide range of outdoor activities.

Additional information about the Discipline of Family Medicine can be found at <https://www.mun.ca/medicine/familymedicine/>.

Review of applications will begin February 22, 2023 and will continue until the selection process concludes.

Interested individuals should direct their inquiries and/or expressions of interest with their CV and the names of three referees to:

Shenoa White, DFMAdmin@mun.ca

Our Mission

Through respectful collaboration, the Discipline of Family Medicine delivers excellence in learner-centered, and evidence-informed education, patient-centered research and comprehensive primary care; meets the unique needs of diverse people and communities we serve; and advocates for equity in health.